

2018-2019 John H. M. and Doris D. Andrews Research and Development Award

Terms of Reference and Instructions

Dr. John H. M. Andrews, former Dean of Education, UBC from 1973-79, and his wife Doris Andrews generously endowed one award offered to tenured and tenure-track faculty in the Faculty of Education. This award is designed to support educational research and development projects that have an impact on the community and make a contribution to society. The research component must have a direct impact on the community and increase our knowledge and understanding of Canadian education. The development component must be conducted in collaboration with a community educational partner. The award is based on Dr. Andrews' belief that teachers, in practicing their profession, are called upon to relate, not just to their students, but also to parents, fellow citizens and teachers, school administration, their professional association, staff groups, governmental agencies, as well as the broad range of social and political groups in the community.

Terms of Reference

- Members of the Faculty of Education professoriate are eligible for this competition (Assistant Professors, Associate Professors and Professors).
- Applicants must clearly demonstrate how their project will have an impact on the community and increase our understanding of Canadian education.
- The proposal must clearly identify community educational partner(s) and their roles.
- One award valued at $5,000 will be offered. The term of the award is 12 months from the date of the award notification.
- Successful applicants are required to write a 1-page summary describing the outcomes of the project for the Faculty of Education Development Office that may be shared with the donor.

Application Deadline

Please email complete applications to Heather Frost (heather.frost@ubc.ca) by 4:00 pm, May, 4th 2018.

Application Instructions

Applications must include the following:

1. The John and Doris Andrews Application Form. The form includes an abstract, budget and budget justification and a list of community partners. Applicants must provide a clear explanation of how each expense relates to, and helps fulfill the goals of the project.
2. A Project/Activities Description (attachment* – maximum 2 pages). An attachment describing the proposed activities that effectively communicates:

- a. The main issues addressed and the specific research objectives;
 - b. The theoretical framework underlying the research;
 - c. The research methodology;
 - d. The anticipated impact and significance of the research, including an explanation of how the project will have a direct impact on the community and increase our knowledge and understanding of Canadian education; and
 - e. A clear explanation of the roles and engagement of community educational partners.
3. References (attachment* - no page limit)
 4. Project feasibility statement (attachment* - ½ page). A description of the project’s feasibility, including an explanation of how the research activities can be carried out within the timeline and with the resources provided by the award. If the research is preliminary to, or part of, a larger project, identify how the proposed work is nonetheless self-contained and can be completed within the term of the award and with the requested funds.
 5. Letter(s) of support (attachment*) from the community partner(s) that illustrate(s) support for the project as well as the role of the community partners in the project; and
 6. Applicants must attach their 6-year publication history and 6-year research grants history (Note that we do not require the submission of FULL UBC CVs).

*Attachments must conform to formatting specifications: 12 pt. Times New Roman font; ¾” margins; and single-spaced.
